1. Aims

Aldington's Policy for Inclusion and Special Educational Needs aims to:

- Ensure our school fully implements national legislation and Kent Local Authority's guidance and expectations.

Sets out how our school will:

- Support pupils with SEND ensuring our best endeavours to provide the appropriate provision to enable positive outcomes.
- Provide an inclusive environment that enables pupils to access all aspects of school life alongside their peers.
- Provide pupils with the skills and attributes that enable them to become confident individuals who can successfully live fulfilling lives.
- Support pupils with SEND to realise their aspirations and achieve their best.
- Communicate with pupils with SEND and their parents or carers ensuring co-production and seek pupil and parent or carer voices to fully involve them in decision making and discussions to support their child's provision.
- Communicate and explain the roles and responsibilities of key school and external professionals who are supporting the provision for pupils with SEND.
- Ensure the SEND Policy is understood and implemented consistently by all staff and is monitored by Governors.

At Aldington all pupils irrespective of need access a broad and balanced curriculum which is delivered through high quality inclusive teaching to enable every pupil to make progress and reach their full potential socially, emotionally and academically. When required to do so, the school will make reasonable adjustments to support pupils with SEND. The school set high expectations and aspirations for each individual pupil, working together with them, and their parents/carers to ensure that pupils with SEND become confident and independent children and young people who are able to successfully transition to the next phase of their education or adult life.

Countywide Approach to Inclusive Education (CATIE)

A Countywide Approach to Inclusive Education \(kelsi.org.uk\)

What does inclusion mean in Kent?

As the champion of families, children, and young people our collective priorities are to be certain that all children and young people are engaged with and included in the provision of high-quality inclusive education. Ensuring that, whatever their circumstance or ability, our children have a sense of belonging, feel respected, are valued for who they are and develop the knowledge and skills required for adult life. In doing so, we strive to achieve a continuous improvement in standards, a significant narrowing of achievement gaps for vulnerable groups of learners and a wholly inclusive education system which ensures:

- o Equitable access for all. Sufficient, appropriate, quality education provision is available for all children and young people in Kent.
- o No child is left behind. All children and young people are supported to be engaged fully in their education.
- o Effective collaboration. There is collaboration and multi-agency working providing a self-informing, sustainable system which supports the education of all.' (KCC: CATIE p 2-3)

Special Educational Needs Mainstream Core Standards (ordinarily available provision) : Special Educational Needs Mainstream Core Standards

The Mainstream Core Standards:

- ☐ Sets out the provision that the Local Area has agreed should be ordinarily available for Children and Young People with SEND
- ☐ Provides guidance and advice to support schools to meet the needs of and include Children Young People with SEND
- ☐ Provides clear guidance to schools on the statutory duties regarding the inclusion of Children and Young People with SEND
- ☐ Provides information to all stakeholders on the work of schools in relation to the inclusion of Children and Young People with SEND.

The school/academy are all working towards the ultimate goal of growing independent young people as they prepare for adulthood. All provision and support Aldington works towards achieving the Kent Children and Young People Outcomes Framework

3. Definitions

Definition of SEN

‘A child or young person has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty if he or she:

- o Has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
- o Has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools to mainstream post-16 institutions’

(DFE/DOH 2015: 15-16)

Definition of Disability:

‘Many children and young people who have SEN may have a disability under the Equality Act 2010- that is ‘..a physical or mental impairment which is a long-term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities.’ This definition provides a low threshold and includes more children than many realise: ‘Long term’ is defined as a ‘year or more’ and substantial’ is defined as’ more than minor or trivial’. This definition includes sensory impairments such as those affecting sight or hearing and long-term health conditions such as asthma, diabetes, epilepsy, and cancer. Children and young people with such conditions do not necessarily have SEN, but there is sufficient overlap between disabled children and young people and those with SEN. Where a disabled child or young person requires a special educational provision, they will also be covered by the SEN definition' (DfE/DOH 2015: 16)

Special Educational Needs Register:

At Aldington the SENCO will regularly review the SEN register as part of the Graduated Approach. The SENCO will work in co-production with parents/carers and if required key external professionals to ensure high quality SEN provision is in place, informing parents/carers of any changes that have been agreed. School staff will also be informed, and records updated accordingly on the appropriate school system. A diagnosis does not necessarily mean that a pupil will be placed on the SEN register if the universal and targeted provision the pupil is accessing is enabling them to make good progress.

Special Educational Needs (SEN) support

'SEN support means support that is additional to, or different from, the support generally made for other children of the same age in a school. It is provided for pupils who are identified as having a learning difficulty or a disability that requires extra or different help to that normally provided as part of the school's usual curriculum offer. A pupil on SEN support will not have an education, health and care plan.'

<https://explore-education-statistics.service.gov.uk/find-statistics/special-educational-needs-in-england>

Education, health and care (EHC) plans

A local authority may issue an EHC plan for a pupil who needs more support than is available through SEN support. This will follow a statutory assessment process whereby the local authority considers the pupil's special educational needs and any relevant health and social care needs; sets out long term outcomes; and specifies provision which will deliver additional support to meet those needs.

4. Inclusion and Equal Opportunity

We are proud of our unique school, with its inspirational setting and outdoor environment, where inclusion and equal opportunity are at the heart of all we do. Safety, security and a strong family ethos underpin a culture in which every pupil feels valued, respected, and able to thrive. Our curriculum is carefully designed to be fully inclusive, celebrating diversity and removing barriers to learning, while embracing our key values of nurture and challenge.

We maintain high expectations for all pupils, ensuring that appropriate support and challenge are in place so every child can achieve their individual potential.

Our Aldington family is committed to ensuring that every pupil has equitable access to opportunities that enable them to succeed. We work collaboratively to create an engaging and adaptable curriculum that encourages all children to question the world around them, build resilience, and develop confidence, independence, and a healthy lifestyle. Through this inclusive approach, we promote fairness, participation, and a sense of empowerment for every learner.

All pupils' successes and achievements are recognised and celebrated, fostering a sense of pride and belonging. This shared ethos ensures that every member of our school community feels included, supported, and an integral part of our diverse and welcoming environment.

Please see SEN information report

5. Roles and Responsibilities – in conjunction with SEN Information Report

Aldington works strategically in line with the Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) Code of Practice 2015 by embedding inclusive principles into its whole-school approach. This includes early identification of pupils with additional needs through robust assessment systems, followed by a graduated approach of assess, plan, do, review. Provision is carefully mapped, regularly reviewed, and aligned with individual pupil outcomes, ensuring that support is both targeted and effective. Leadership ensures that SEND is a standing priority within the school improvement plan, with the SENCo working closely with senior leaders, teachers, and external agencies to maintain high-quality provision and compliance with statutory guidance.

To ensure the school remains aligned with the SEND Code of Practice, clear systems and accountability structures are in place. Staff receive ongoing training and updates to build confidence and consistency in inclusive practice, while governors are kept informed through regular reports on SEND provision, outcomes, and statutory responsibilities. Communication with parents is prioritised through structured review meetings, transparent reporting, and opportunities for collaboration in decision-making about their child's support. Policies are regularly reviewed and shared across the school community, ensuring that expectations and responsibilities are clearly understood by all stakeholders.

The school will ensure that pupils, parents and carers have:

- Access to impartial information, advice and support throughout their time in the school/academy to help them make informed decisions and choices about their future.
- Are effectively supported to understand their rights and decision-making processes and choices regarding their plans and support.

- An understanding of their individual plans, outcomes, provision and support and the reasons why some changes may not be possible

(Area SEND inspections: framework and handbook updated April 2024)

Maintained School

7.2.2 Children with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND)

Governing bodies have legal duties in relation to pupils with SEND that are set out in the Children and Families Act 2014 and the SEND code of practice.

Governing bodies should have an individual responsible for specific oversight of the school's arrangements for children with SEND.

The SEND code of practice assists the governing body and the link or lead governor in supporting and promoting discussions with regards to outcomes for learners with SEND.

DfE: Maintained schools guidance guide: updated 2 October 2024 Maintained Schools Handbook

Our SEN Governor is Emma McQuillan.

5.4 Teachers

All teachers are teachers of pupils with special educational needs. Our SENCO provide a vital strategic role and provides significant advice and support to teachers, but the responsibility for the learning and progress of all children lies with the teacher.

‘High quality teaching, differentiated for individual pupils, is the starting point in responding to pupils who have or may have SEN. Additional intervention and SEN support cannot compensate for a lack of good quality teaching.

Schools should regularly and carefully review the quality of teaching for all pupils, including those at risk of underachievement. This includes reviewing and, where necessary, improving, teachers’ understanding of strategies to identify and support vulnerable pupils, and their knowledge of the SEN most frequently encountered.’(DfE/DoH SEND Code of Practice 2015: 25)

Every teacher is responsible for:

- ☐ The progress and development of every pupil in their class
- ☐ Instilling high aspirations for every pupil.
- ☐ Delivering a broad balanced curriculum embedding high-quality inclusive teaching strategies and resources
- ☐ Working closely with teaching assistants or specialist staff to plan, monitor, track and assess the impact of support and interventions, and how they can be transitioned and embedded in the classroom.
- ☐ Working with the SENCO to review each pupil's progress and development, and decide on any changes to provision.
- ☐ Ensuring they follow this SEN policy.

Expectations of Teaching Assistants (TAs) are clearly aligned with the school's inclusive ethos and the SEND Code of Practice. Support staff are expected to actively promote independence by scaffolding learning, using strategies agreed with the class teacher and SENCo. In lessons, they work collaboratively with teachers to adapt tasks, provide targeted interventions, and support pupils' engagement and understanding, while maintaining high expectations for all learners. Throughout the school day, TAs/LSAs play a key role in supporting social, emotional, and behavioural needs, ensuring consistency of approach across classrooms, unstructured times, and interventions. They are also expected to contribute to assessment and review processes by providing feedback on pupil progress, enabling a joined-up approach to support and continuous improvement in provision.

5.5 Parents and carers

Parents and carers should inform the school/academy if they have any concerns about their child's progress socially, physically, emotionally, or academically or if there are any changes to provision that have been advised by key external professionals working with their child following an appointment.

Parents and carers are kept informed about all aspects of the decision-making process through meetings and agreed forms of communication. They receive clear, timely updates regarding their child's SEN provision, ensuring transparency and understanding of the support in place.

5.6 The pupil

Seeking the voice of the pupil is an important aspect of ensuring the SEN provision is highly effective for every pupil with SEN. Pupils are given every opportunity to express their view and provide information to support review meetings as part of our Graduated Approach in year meetings and for pupils with an EHCP the statutory Annual Review. However, the voice of the pupil can be sought at any time throughout the school year.

Pupils at Aldington are able to express their views through:

- Pupil voice questionnaires and surveys
- One-to-one discussions with teachers, TAs, or the SENCo
- Review meetings (e.g. SEN support reviews)
- Individual targets and reflection activities
- School council or pupil leadership groups
- Informal check-ins during lessons and interventions

6. SEN Information Report

Our SEN policy works in conjunction with our SEN Information report <https://primarysite-prod-sorted.s3.amazonaws.com/aldington-primary-school/UploadedDocument/5c7e0ba1-d027-41eb-a879-d62a8fdcc6dd/send-report-2023-2024.pdf> which sets out how this policy is implemented in the school.

The SEN Information Report is updated annually or if necessary, when changes to the information may be required during the academic year.

7. Admissions and Accessibility

Aldington is aware of its obligations under the Equality Act 2010 and complies with non-discrimination provisions and admissions processes.

8. Our school approach to SEN provision

The school/academy will assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment on entry, which will build on previous settings and Key Stages, where appropriate. Teachers will make regular assessments of progress for all pupils and identify those whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline.
- Fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress.
- Fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers.
- Widens the attainment gap.

DfE/DOH SEND Code of Practice: 2015, 6.17

This may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example, social, emotional and mental health needs.

When deciding whether special educational provision is required, the school/academy will start with the desired outcomes, including the expected progress and attainment using the school/academy's graduated approach, and the views and the wishes of the pupil and their parents. The school/academy will use this to determine the support that is needed and whether the school/academy can provide it by adapting the universal offer, or whether something different or additional is needed.

8.1 The kinds of special educational need for which provision is made

At Aldington provision is made to support pupils with additional needs irrespective of whether a pupil has an education health and care plan in conjunction with The Continuum of Provision and Need and using the Graduated Approach.

At Aldington we will ensure our 'best endeavours' to meet the needs of pupils with an Educational Health and Care Plan (EHCP) with the following kinds of special educational need: Cognition and Learning Difficulties, Communication and Interaction, Sensory and/or Physical Needs and Social, Emotional and Mental Health needs. Decisions on the admission of pupils with an EHCP are made by the Local Authority.

8.2 The identification and assessment of pupils with special educational needs

In line with this SEND Code of Practice (DfE/DoH 2015) pupils at Aldington are identified as either having no SEN, having SEN with support, or having a SEN with an Educational Health and Care Plan.

At Aldington progress is closely monitored throughout the year to review their academic progress through three cycles. However, pupils with SEN may have more frequent assessments.

Teachers carry out regular assessments to track progress and identify pupils who despite using high quality inclusive teaching strategies are:

- ☐ Working significantly slower than their peers who have the same starting point.
- ☐ Are unable to maintain or improve their progress rate
- ☐ Are unable to close the attainment gap in line with their peers or the gap is widening.

This may also include progress and development in areas other than academic attainment such as social, emotional, and physical.

To support pupils, the school/academy use a range of assessments to review and monitor the broader developmental needs and progress of all pupils such as reading assessments, other assessments linked to specific needs. These tests will enable the early identification of difficulties that a pupil may present. Information collected from the testing will inform the appropriate intervention and provision to support progress and outcomes.

At Aldington we monitor progress across the year through maintaining Class Profiles and REG rating any intervention or additional support that is implemented.

Teachers at Aldington are responsible for classroom provision delivering a well sequenced and resourced curriculum and use high quality inclusive teaching strategies which are scaffolded, with adaptations made to meet a pupil's needs.

When teachers identify an area where a pupil is making slow progress or where they have concerns, they will follow the school/academy's early identification of need's protocols as set out in section 7. Teachers will inform parents/carers at an early stage to make them aware and discuss the further supporting strategies that the teacher will use to help the pupil.

However, if progress does not improve the teacher will inform the SENCO to have an initial discussion about whether this lack of progress may be due to a special educational need. In this instance, the SENCO will, in consultation with the pupil's parents/carers, discuss further support.

The purpose of a more detailed assessment will identify what additional resources and/or different approach is required to enable the pupil to make better progress. These will be shared with parents/carers, written into SEN provision plans, which are regularly reviewed, refined, and revised. At this point the SENCO will have identified that the pupil has an additional need because the school/academy is making provision for the pupil which is additional and different to what is normally available. Teachers will be informed throughout the process and training will be delivered to ensure the provision is of a high quality.

It is important to note as stated in the SEND Code of Practice (DfE/DoH,2015 6.23) that slower than expected progress and lower attainment does not automatically mean a pupil would be recorded as having SEN.

If the pupil is able to make good progress using this additional and different resource but would not be able to maintain this good progress without it, the school/academy will continue to identify the pupils having special educational need. If the pupil is able to make good progress without the additional or different resources, they will not be identified as having special educational needs. When any change of identification of SEN is amended, parents/carers will be notified.

The school/academy will ensure that all teachers and support staff who work with a pupil with SEN or have an additional need are made fully aware of the provision that each individual pupil requires through robust discussions with the SENCo and the Class Profiles.

8.3 Consulting with Parents

At our school, we believe that strong partnerships with parents and carers are essential to supporting pupils with Special Educational Needs (SEN). We are committed to working collaboratively, ensuring that families are fully involved in and feel that their views are valued.

We consult with parents regularly through structured meetings such as review meetings, parent consultations, and, where appropriate, early help or multi-agency meetings. In addition, informal communication (e.g. phone calls, emails, and home–school communication books) enables ongoing dialogue about a child’s progress and wellbeing.

We actively seek parent voice by inviting contributions before and during meetings, using questionnaires or feedback forms, and encouraging parents to share their knowledge of their child’s strengths, needs, and aspirations. This helps ensure that provision is tailored effectively.

Co-production is central to our approach. Parents and carers are involved in setting outcomes, agreeing support strategies, and reviewing progress. Where appropriate, pupils are also included in this process to ensure their voice is heard alongside that of their family.

Following any meeting or review, next steps are clearly agreed and recorded.

9. Assessing, Monitoring, Reviewing and Evaluating Progress towards Outcomes

The schools best endeavours through, for example:

- ☐ The teacher's assessment and experience of the pupil
- ☐ The pupil's previous progress and attainment or behaviour.
- ☐ Other teachers' assessments, where relevant
- ☐ The pupil's individual development compared to their peers and national data.
- ☐ Collaboration with parents/carers to seek their views and experience and agreed next steps.
- ☐ The pupil's own views
- ☐ Advice from external support services, if relevant
- ☐ Ensure pupils are prepared for their next steps and onward pathways.

At all times teachers and support staff who work closely with the pupil will be made aware of their needs, provision plan outcomes, key strategies, provision and approaches to support them throughout the school day. Any changes to provision will be communicated in a timely manner through the school's SEN protocols and processes as set out in the SEN Information Report.

This policy and SEN Information Report will be reviewed by Alice Paggett (SENCo) every year. It will also be updated to reflect any changes to the information or statutory policy.

The policy will be approved by the governing body and available to read and refer to on the school's website.

10. Complaints about SEND Provision

Complaints about SEN provision at Aldington Primary School should be made by referring to the school's complaints policy.

Parents/carers of pupils with disabilities have the right to make disability discrimination claims to the first tier SEND tribunal if they believe that the school has discriminated against their child. They can make a claim about alleged discrimination regarding:

- Exclusions
- Provision of education and associated services
- Making reasonable adjustments, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services

All complaints relating to a named member of staff must be sent to the headteacher.

If a complaint is not resolved after it has been considered by the governing body and you are not satisfied with the school's response, you can escalate the complaint.

The Complaints Policy can be found here: <https://www.aldington.kent.sch.uk/policies>
